

Dollywood once again hosts Homeschool Days from Aug. 3 to Sept. 30. Advance tickets require at least a 72-hour notice.

Not many classrooms measure 150 acres, but Dollywood is at the head of the class when it comes to fun, interactive learning in a beautiful outdoor setting. Dollywood's rides represent principles of physics that thrill students in more ways than one.

The park offers a unique zoology lesson at the spectacular Eagle Mountain Sanctuary, home to the country's largest collection of non-releasable bald eagles. Centuries-old history comes to life as Dollywood features dozens of craft demonstrations daily. Students visiting Dollywood can see master craftspeople practicing unique art forms like glass blowing, candy making, blacksmithing, leather crafting, candle making, wood carving and pottery.

For more information go to <https://www.dollywood.com/Groups/Homeschool-Days> .